Waiver for Private Pay Clients
(Skip if using insurance)

At times patients with insurance coverage prefer to pay privately for confidentiality reasons. Using your insurance requires passing along information regarding diagnosis necessary for reimbursement (see Confidentiality Statement and HIPAA policies). This information is discoverable by underwriters of life, long-term care, and medical insurance policies and may impact future premiums or coverage.

Also It is common for insurance not to pay for marriage/couples/sex therapy. It is unethical and a breach of contract with your insurance company to bill "as family therapy" in order to get paid. If your insurance does not cover either the diagnosis (Z codes), or Marriage Counseling – a payment at time of service discount rate listed below is the alternative.

The usual rate is$225.00 for intakes, $130.00 individual and $150.00 for couples; however, payment at time of service permits a discounted rate of:

$95.00 for intake appointment (60 minutes).
$75.00 for 45 minute session (individual)
$85.00 for 60 minutes session (individual)
$95.00 for family/couples (60 minutes).

_____ (initial) I understand that I do not have mental health/marriage counseling benefits as part of my insurance policy or I do not meet the criteria for medical necessity and choose to continue through private pay OR…

_____ (initial) I am choosing to pay privately and will not submit to my insurance company for reimbursement. Should I desire to use my insurance in the future. I understand that I must revoke this waiver in writing AND only submit to insurance those sessions that have occurred AFTER the date of my written notification.

Informed Consent for Therapy

Therapy will work on the goals that you bring. When working as a family/couple, the goals that support the relationships will be the focus of counseling. Generally this works well, but sometimes it can be challenging emotionally and take some additional time throughout your week. Sometimes looking at problems to make changes is uncomfortable, please let me know if this is happening so I can help. Copies of the treatment plan can be requested at any time as part of the medical record for the patient to review. You have the right to refuse therapy or terminate at any time.

I won't do tests or assessments without your knowledge and agreement. Your records are kept secure according to state and federal regulations. We use an electronic health record though a business agreement that is HIPAA compliant. If you have questions on this please feel free to ask. Your specific therapist and their supervisor/ administrator have access to your records. Regarding couples counseling: Intakes will be stored individually. Couples counseling will be billed as "family" sessions, the identified patient for insurance billing purposes will be discussed at your intake session along with confidentiality of the file.

Unless you are using Medicaid, your physician will not be notified of your treatment unless you or they specifically request this. If you are using Medicaid and do not want your physician contacted, let your therapist know.

I cannot provide crisis counseling. I return calls during office hours (described on my voicemail). If you have a medical emergency, please contact 911 emergency services. Otherwise – please use family and friends for support until an "urgent" appointment can be scheduled (within 24 hours). I do provide some limited phone contact through scheduled arrangements, this is not covered by insurance and will be billed according to my private pay rate. An on-call therapist is available to return calls within 30 minutes if requested in the voicemail message..

I do not use social media to connect with, friend, message or otherwise communicate with patients. Posts / messages that this therapist believes may compromise your confidentiality will be deleted. Leaving "reviews" (positive or negative) online limits your confidentiality and cannot be addressed online. Please call the Owner at 402-325-0117 x1 with any positive or negative feedback.

As the work we do requires clear thinking and can stir strong emotions, you cannot come under the influence of drugs or alcohol. Weapons are not allowed in the office. If your therapist suspects this, your appointment will be rescheduled.

Non-therapeutic services such as letter writing, appearing in court, being deposed, phone consultations, etc. are subject to additional fees as defined by your therapist. If you have any questions, please ask in advance. Missed appointments with less than 24 hours notice are subject to a $50.00 late cancellation / no show fee charged to the card on file. Repeated (generally more than three) missed appointments may be subject to scheduling limitations.

Payments may be collected at the time of service. Any amounts not covered by insurance either due to deductibles; co-insurance; denied services, diagnoses, or dates of service will be the patient responsibility. Amounts over 90 days past due may be automatically collected by your therapist using the credit card on file Unpaid balances over 120 days will be submitted to collections. I authorize and request AdultSpan Counseling to charge my credit card on file, as indicated above. This authorization will remain in effect until I cancel this authorization. To cancel, I must give a 60 day notification to AdultSpan PC in writing: 1001 S 70th St. #225 Lincoln 68510. Charges on your credit card statement may appear as ASC, Adultspan PC or Adultspan Counseling.

Name and date

Confidentiality of your Information

What is said in therapy needs to be confidential in order for therapy to work. Confidentiality means that your therapist will protect verbal, written/electronic information (i.e., your file) according to state and federal guidelines. You may identify specific persons that you do NOT want to be able to obtain your records.

There are some limits to confidentiality. If you feel that you may harm yourself or others, your therapist will use the least information to the fewest people possible to reasonably ensure safety. Your therapist is required by law to report suspected abuse or neglect of a child or vulnerable adult to the authorities. At times your therapist will consult with other therapists about your treatment without identifying you.

Family or couples therapy is only as confidential as the other people in the room. Please respect each other's confidentiality. While your therapist would encourage you to use your support system (friends and family), please limit what you share about therapy. There will be only one "family" file. Your therapist will discuss who is the identified patient for the file/billing. At times it may make sense to see members of the family individually and as a family. The pro/cons of this will be discussed as well as how the confidentiality for individual sessions will be handled.

Parents are asked to respect that confidentiality is important for children too. Your therapist will let you know if your minor child is in imminent harm. Just because your child may discuss risky behaviors does not mean they are in imminent harm. If you would like to clarify what you'd like to be told about, please talk to your therapist.

Your insurance requires date, diagnosis and the service in order to pay. They may rarely also request your file to ensure the services were "medically necessary." If you're concerned about this you may pay for your services yourself; however, you cannot submit it to insurance for reimbursement. Payment information may be sent via the credit card system to the email on file if you request a receipt.

If you contact your therapist through an insecure means (e.g., email or text) you agree that your therapist may respond with the requested information with the same communication channel. However, your therapist may require you to schedule a session or phone contact to discuss complex or sensitive information.

Court or legal requests for records will start with an attempt to get a release from all persons attending the sessions. If it is denied, this therapist will work to keep your information protected; however, ultimately may end up having to testify. This unlikely, and if you're concerned about this talk with your therapist about how this will be handled.

By signing below I agree I understand my rights and limits for confidentiality. I have been offered and received, if requested, a copy of the HIPAA policy for AdultSpan Counseling. It is also available on the website.
